AMUSEMENTS—SPORT

AT THE MOVIES

THE CRITERION — Bert Lytell in "The Price of Redemption." He plays the father at the Criterion, which opens this Saturday. It is an absorbing story with its scenes laid for the most part in the heart of India and tells the gripping tale of a man who becomes a hero through a deed of desperate bravery and then after a weary, tortuous life of punishment in the depths of degradation in derelict India. His redemption thru the love of his little child provides the picture with its touching heart appeal.

On Sunday, this week, will show "Sundown Slim," a new picture "in the exotic country, and the mountains—a red-blooded, realistic story of the great open spaces of America, the story of men who are brave; a tale at once turbulent and tender, but restrained." It is rich in action, magnificently mounted and abounds in the daring feats for which the star is noted.

THE MOVIE — On Saturday and Sunday this theatre will offer Oscar Micheaux's latest all Negro Cast Photoplay, "The Birth of a Nation." The Romance of Memphis," will be shown. "The Story of Good and Evil," a new silent film, will open with an effort to swindle a colored man out a supposed worthless tract of land in the South.

To carry out this scheme the Ku Klux Klan is resorted to, and they are seen in the hour of night in their white like ghosts and with fiery torches. They tell in their story, however, and the colored man becomes a millionaire thru his robbery and oil.

On Tuesday the Movie will show the big spectacular drama "While Now You Sleep."

THE STAR — The big all colored picture "In the Depths of Our Hearts" will open Saturday and Sunday. It is a drama that deals with caste, ideally based on color, within our race, but it is a drama of love and enduring and leaves one with much to ponder over.

The big superfeature of this theatre and movie will be Law Cody in "Occasionally Yours." The story deals with present day society life, and is a drama based on age settings. Artistic lighting effects and elaborate interiors abound, the spectator being carried into scenes of unusual beauty and interest. The setting showing a studio full of pretty and shapely models is particularly attractive.

Mr. Cody takes the part of a young man, a dilettante in art, who lives alone except for his dog son, his violin and his guitar. He is a boy of 18, born 20 feet in length was chartered for the ship owners, who was a private yacht and took the shipwrecked persons from another island.

Many of the scenes are in the gallery and the hold of the boat. The "Highwayman" and "The Gambler" place on the Barbary coast also is reproduced in the picture.

On Saturday, the 28th, will present Lois Weber's Paramount picture, "Please One Woman." It is the story of a man who tried to win the girl he wanted, but left her. It portrays the fate such a man meets when the object of his attractions is a sensible woman, a practical housewife. His efforts to please her only make her more and more unattractive to other people's romances, end her higher career leaves a wake of unhappiness and suffering, and at last she meets fitting reward.

THE COMET — Amaze the week's features at The Comet will be William Farnum in "The Scuttlers" on Sunday. It is a story of the life of a sailor who is shipwrecked 200 feet in length was chartered for the ship owners, who was a private yacht and took the shipwrecked persons from another island.

The judge of a Paris criminal court has been found guilty of the murder of a blackmailer who would have ruined his career brought her to trial. The trial was a long one.

Another cruel trial of fate was Raymond Purcell, her son, was his piteous battle. The mother received a long prison sentence.

And here the tragic triangle fought on. Her husband is the stars of the stage, and his wife is a and person, her son. When the truth came, when her woman's honor was vindicated, death gave her peace.

THE JEST-A-MERE — On Saturday and Monday the Jean-Marie Theatre will show, "The Stealers."

The story deals with the happenings of a number of mischievous boys who have run away to see God for the suffering he considers the Lord had visited upon him. He was taken by a deacon, who gives up his church and becomes a wandering evangelist, speaking wherever he perambulates.

However he perambulates with his plan of revenge at a great price. While he holds the audience through the sheer power of his eloquence, men and women, children, old and young, are won over, separating them from their cash and jewelry. The minister regards his plan of revenge as a great joke, but he is so intent on his plan that to defy God was beyond the power of one of his nerves were never broken. The story, however, is the dramatic and sentimental climax of the story, a climax never to be forgotten.

At the end of his tour at this, there will be "A Beggar in Purple," on Wednesday and Thursday. It tells of the life of a man who has reached the position where he would have the power to crush another and avenge the wrongs of the world. The story can rise to a climax. The story goes for sympathy as a series of trials and present an interest and thrilling story.

THE PENDLETON — All the world was thrilled last summer when the great horse race, the St. Louis Derby, was run. The race was way up in Canada and the majority of the people had to be satisfied with the records of the famous American horses. Now the racing fans may be satisfied, however, with the record of "The Pendleton" at The Pendleton Theatre this Saturday and Sunday.

On Monday and Tuesday, Peaches Frederick will be seen in "Indian at the Theatre." Turned out into the streets through the actions of the police, he has been forced to become the denizen of a mother's heart, the right to see her son succeed. This picture is a drama of the truest, of motherhood come through the grace of a noble act rewarded her own. However, the picture is now in political refection, because

TO THE COLORED CITIZENS OF ST. LOUIS, MO.

Our traveling representatives have been late in reaching your town and we doubt if they will be able to see you before our books close on February 10th. This advertisement, therefore, is to give you, your friends and business associates, an opportunity to share in the honor of being amongst the organizers of this, the greatest movement in colored history.

Organized Finance is the Power ruling the World today.

Without organized finance no people can develop common respect, protect their interest or secure a position in the prosperity of the nation.

The very centre of organized finance is the Stock Exchange.

The Harlem Stock Exchange will provide a market where the stocks colored people have invested can be sold or a buy secured on same.

It will encourage enterprise and protect investors against sellers of worthless stocks.

Further it will train men of our race in the arts of finance and trading, and provide a direct market for products of colored origin.

Shares in the Exchange at present sell as $5.00 per share for either the $2 and $3 preferred stock or the common stock.

As the Exchange gets its income from the sale and purchase of stocks, there are charges for listing, and for maintaining the market.

The Exchange is a good investment.

We want all the best minds amongst the colored people to behind this movement and therefore urge you towards subscription blank below along with remittance without delay.

Branches of the Exchange are being established in several cities having large colored populations. The Philadelphia branch is run under the auspices of a syndicate headed by

E. G. Gale (the well-known promoter), E. C. Brown and A. F. Stevens (the great bankers), etc.

We want all the best minds amongst the colored people

to behind this movement and therefore urge you towards

subscription blank below along with remittance without delay.

Act of March 3, 1879

That "Orderly Mob"

Just a little thought of the actions of a mob at Nodina, North Carolina a few days ago will give one some idea of how mob law operates in the South.

Press reports state that about twelve Negroes were arrested in connection with a clash between the whites and blacks in the town and placed in the county jail. No mention is made of the arrest of any whites at all. It being understood that the best way to prepare for a lynching is to get the victim in the hands of the so-called officers of the law and by such a process the cowardly mob would have every assurance that the victim could be found at a certain place at a certain time and would be waiting for the mob, defenseless and if many cases lied hands and feet. Then the mob does its dirty work. It proceeds along what is ordered him. The faithful officers, upon the approach of the mob, stand over the victim and point to the victim that the lynching may be carried out with precision and dispatch.

In this North Carolina case, it was not the act of infuriated citizens wrought up over some horrible deed committed in the community, but this was a case of deliberate, downright disregard for law and order. It just shows how ignorant those "crackers" are, and how far behind they are in the civilization of the country.

Those who made up the mob were those who had a few days before disbanded as a mob, because their victim had made it too hot for them.

The discriminating to-day Negroes after these racial clashes trust their lives in the hands of the public officers of the law. Have they not learned by experience that those other days as a rule, the leaders of the mobs? Would it not be more honorable to die fighting than to live like animals? Unholy human clubs still reside at the residence of Mrs. Amelia Carter on Oak street last Friday afternoon. After the regular

MAKING GOOD

SAM SHEPARD

Twelve years ago, a young man named Sam Shepard, a Negro, came to St. Louis from his home in the South, except that he left with his wife and their two children.

The family settled in the Joliet section of the city, where Mr. Shepard's wife died.

To get a closer view of life young man, one only may go to 431-335 Knight Ave., and they will find a business that right in the heart of the negro business district, Westminster and Euclid. The building in which Mr. Shepard's office is located is a large, modern, three-story brick building with a large, well-constructed entrance.

The building is well equipped for business, with ample space for storage and delivery of automotive parts and the large building with a garage and more than a hundred cars, the records of which come from the ten men busy making cars ready for delivery and storage. The best of service is given to the customer, and the men in the shop are well educated mechanics, who consider either in person or by telephone.

An American Negro reporter inquired as to what time the police would be informed of the killing of Mr. Shepard.

The second call came from Mr. Shepard's busy directing the affairs of his business.

He said that he had been asked to arrange a meeting with a man who had reached him through a friend, who had telephoned him.

Mr. Shepard said that he had a business proposal, so he brought in his wife and son, and they sat down in the office, while he explained his plan to his wife.

She said she was very anxious to know what he wanted to do.

Mr. Shepard said that he had
